Hats! The Musical, Stage Nine Theatre

Review: What a fun time!!! Go, See, Laugh!

Review: My husband and I went to see Hats, the Musical Saturday night and loved it. This was our first time at Stage Nine and we both thought they did a fabulous job with the sets for the amount of stage they have to work with. Each Character had great energy and the story is a hoot.

Review: Absolutely fabulous! A MUST SEE. This one far outshines other productions I've seen and offers a new twist with Ruby as a puppet(a la Ave Q). Puppetier Amy Brandolino, using her facial and body expressions as well as different voices, brings Ruby "to life" on stage. Cathy Monaghan, as Duchess, steals the show bringing the house down in "My Oven's Still Hot". Even if you have seen other productions of HATS, I urge you to see this one. It has Elly's all over it.

Review: OUTSTANDING!!! I had a great time all the way through. Plenty of laughs, and it was amazingly uplifting. Everybody in the room seemed to enjoy this show as much as I did. I highly recommend this show. You will be very glad you took it in.

Review: Absolutely marvelous! This production is spot on for women of a certain age. The actresses were well suited to the parts and there was not a dull moment in the entire production - it drew us in and absolutely suspended disbelief. The costumes were wonderfully done and perfect for each character - kudos to Eileen Beaver for the design! This storefront theatre has come a long way in three years and this playgoer hopes they will continue to grow and enjoy great success. It's a pleasure to attend such an entertaining performance. Hats off to Hats!

Review: This was a delightful play. In the cast I saw myself again and again, laughing at the truths of being an aging women and all the "stuff" that comes with it. The Stage Nine Theatre is an intimate venue with every seat in the house being a good one. Downtown historic Folsom offers many places for food and drink after enjoying a wonderful play, highly recommend it.
