audience reviews

Complete History of America (abridged), Sutter Street Theatre

Review: We saw this show over the weekend and it was filled with comedy from beginning to end! We laughed so hard our voices hurt!!! The three actors due a superb job of going over 600 years of history in two hours with lots of comedy and fun! From the start of the show with a song and a marching procession using a tiny drum and large cymbals, to the Lewis and Clark Show, to Lucy Ricardo showing up, this show has something for everyone! This is such a wonderful comedy and if you blink you might miss something! You can certainly tell how hard the actors worked under the direction of Susan Mason. They have GREAT comedic timing, and did a fantastic job of keeping smiles on our faces, long after the show was over! Everyone should go see this show!!! It is full of laughs and History! And as always Sutter Street Theatre NEVER disappoints!

Review: We're from out of town, so we were looking for entertainment in Folsom, found this show, and spent two hours laughing ourselves silly. The show covers American history from the beginning--whenever you think that was--to the present day with sketches, impersonations, one-liners and songs. There's rap, vaudeville, a revival meeting, a game show, a radio show, and a send-up of film noir. The three actors are as strong as we've seen anywhere, and they work together like acrobats doing a routine. Great show!

Review: Sutter Street Theatre does it again with a hilarious show about the History of America... I was in stitches throughout the performance and entertained from start to finish. If you are interested in some clever and lively humor, don't miss this show! You will not be disappointed.

Review: I had a great time at this show! It was fast-paced, witty, and never a dull moment. Each actor brought their own unique personality and style to the stage and played off of each other very well. Jessica Larrick brightened the stage with a natural flair for comedy and knack for outrageous accents that had me chuckling non-stop. Michael Coleman was absolutely wild and hilarious throughout - I especially loved his portrayal of Lucille Ball! Ryan P. Adame is also extremely talented (he has his film noir acting technique down to a minute science) and provides to perfectly balance out the other two actors. Definitely a must-see show and worth every penny!
