audience reviews

Miss Fortunate, El Dorado High School Studio 81

Review: Miss Fortunate is an original musical written by a student. It is a dark comic satire of a dysfunctional family; a pop opera, similar in intensity to "Rent". The music is creative, and innovative with beautiful and complex harmonies. The actors truly seem to have a grasp of the material and give very emotional performances. It is amazing to think that a student created this show. I believe we will see David Taylor's name as the composer/lyricist on the playbill of a Broadway show some day. If you have an opportunity to see this show, go!

Review: Very enjoyable play. The songs are great, even if they had been written by an adult, but they were written by a high school student. The talented cast performs with enthusiasm. Great staging and costumes.
Don't let the weather keep you away.

Review: What a gem! Insightful, witty, and a bit campy. David Taylor has found a way to bring serious relevant issues to the stage with memorable melodies and clever lyrics.

Review: What an incredible show! The music is heartfelt and beautifully executed. It's hard to believe that this is a high school production.

Review: well, im not an expert on these kinds of things, but i was VERY impressed on opening night, everyone did such an amazing job! if you havent gone to see this show yet...then go! theres not much time left!! excellent script & music =D

Review: This was entertaining on so many different levels. I thoroughly enjoyed myself. I'm bringing a friend and seeing it a second time and I'm looking forward to it. Funny and tragic in a way only a young playwright - composer - director can pull off!
